Practitioner Trainings

"NLP is an attitude and a methodology which leaves behind a trail of techniques."

Richard Bandler: Co-Developer of NLP

Dan's Practitioner & Master Practitioner Trainings are highly personalized and effective! Unique due to the small group size (2 to maximum 5 participants) sessions are informative and transformative! And can be scheduled with flexibility according to group consensus. The learning environment is secure and non-judgemental... no failure, only feedback. You receive full instruction and the undivided care and attention of a dedicated Certified NLP & HNLP Trainer & Coach, with your best interests at heart, from start to certification. Located centrally in Cologne's Belgische viertel café's district, the atmosphere is cosy and the dynamic fully conducive to maximizing your learning and integration.

NLP & HNLP Practitioner Training empowers you with valuable knowledge attained through the observation and modeling of some of the greatest names in modern psychology including Virginia Satir, Fritz Perls, Gregory Bateson and the 'Master of the Unconscious Mind' Dr. Milton H. Erickson. Fun to learn NLP's powerful techniques are developed with the potential to create significant life changes, help improve self-confidence and self-management skills and can greatly increase competence and effectiveness in a huge spectrum of life contexts.

You will learn the NLP Communication Model and effective rapport skills to improve your relationships. Practice how to identify positive intentions underlying seemingly negative behaviours, to activate resources and create alternative behaviours fulfilling these positive intentions. Rather than falling hostage to limiting emotions, you will learn how to restore freedom of choice for your personal states of mind, and how to anchor these positive states in ways that can benefit self and others. Practitioner training enables you to develop efficient decision making strategies and negotiating skills. Your general attitude will greatly benefit from improved communication and a more profound understanding of how you and others structure their models of the world.

Each session builds on skills previously acquired. Direct trainer supervision 'in class' time is 60 hours combined with 45 hours out of class for reviewing the manual and listening material, and practice of skills before class preparation of exercises and written review questions. For more details concerning specific course content and structure please contact Dan!
